

Love to Read?

Who: You!

What: a thought-provoking discussion of

And Rachel Was His Wife by Marsi Tabak

Where: Levine-Sklut Judaic Library

When: Tuesday October 27, 2009 at 11:45 AM

Why: To stimulate your mind & elevate your spirit!

Preschool children tell the story with childish wonder in their eyes, but in this fascinating, historical novel, Rabbi Akiva's devoted, exceptional wife comes alive to adult readers in a tangible, breathtaking way. Live the story of Rabbi Akiva's ascent from ignorant shepherd to legendary scholar, through the eyes and heart of his wife, Rachel. This inspiring, gripping, and epic novel, based on Talmudic sources, entertains even as it uplifts the reader.

Call Lori Semel 704-519-5149/ email Imarco@carolina.rr.com with questions

Book available at LSJ Library or online at Amazon.com.

The Charlotte Torah Center Women's Book Club

